LETTER FROM THE DEAN

Dear Alumni, Colleagues, and Friends,

Your leadership and support of the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law (Maryland Carey Law) is truly inspiring. Thank you for your unmatched loyalty and dedication to our community.

As the University of Maryland, Baltimore and Maryland Carey Law prepare for the Catalyst campaign, we cannot help but be excited for what is to come. Maryland Carey Law is enabled by your generosity to create and develop outstanding scholars, practitioners, and leaders within the legal community. You have given our faculty and staff the tools to prepare aspiring attorneys, through teaching in both classroom and clinical settings, to be the next leaders within this community.

Your investment in Maryland Carey Law continues to make an impact today, tomorrow, and beyond. Your support allows Maryland Carey Law to:

- Provide an affordable legal education for the most talented and committed students locally, nationally, and internationally.
- Take the student experience to a new level satisfying our commitment to prepare leaders within the legal community through practice and theory.
- Offer the tools to our faculty to further their knowledge of legal theory, publish over 30 books within the last three years, and provide 100% of our full-time students with clinical law experience prior to graduating.
- Maintain our commitment to the Baltimore community by providing over 75,000 hours of free legal services to people who need access to justice.
- Advance our five specialty programs ranked in the top 20 according to U.S. News & World Reports (Law & Health Care Program [2nd]; Part-time JD Program [4th]; Clinical Law Program [7th]; Environmental Law Program [14th]; and Dispute Resolution [18th]).

I am inspired by your commitment to our mission through both your financial contributions and the hours you spend with our students. It is my sincere hope you are as proud to be part of the Maryland Carey Law community as I am.

Thank you. I look forward to seeing you at Maryland Carey Law throughout the upcoming year.

MARYLAND CAREY LAW SCHOOL CLUB LETTER

Dear Fellow Alumni and Friends,

Each year as I write to you as a proud alumnus of the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law (Maryland Carey Law), I cannot help but be inspired and excited for what lies ahead for our law school. Each of us plays an important role in helping further legal education by contributing to Maryland Carey Law and our communal impact makes a tremendous difference for the students. Thank you for supporting Maryland Carey Law, especially the members of the Maryland Carey Law School Club (MCLSC – donors who give $1,000 or more annually) and to the Graduates of the Last Decade Club (GOLD).

Leaders within the MCLSC and GOLD Clubs enable Maryland Carey Law to accomplish its mission “to develop outstanding professionals educated in law. Through excellent teaching in both classroom and clinical settings.” Not only is Maryland Carey Law able to accomplish this mission, it is because of your support that the work exceeds these expectations and takes legal education to new heights.

Over the past few years, we have seen the MCLSC and GOLD Clubs grow and this year was no exception. Not only do alumni take part in leading these clubs. Our faculty, staff, and friends understand the importance of Maryland Carey Law’s educational ambition and help to accomplish the goals of the law school by supporting its mission as well.

Please allow me to express my utmost appreciation for your dedication and commitment to Maryland Carey Law as members of the MCLSC and GOLD Clubs. Thank you for your continued support and please know we welcome your comments and suggestions as to how we can enhance both clubs.

With Warmest Appreciation,

FUNDING THE FUTURE

When Jay Dackman '82, decided that he wanted to give back and somehow make a difference in the world, he knew the man he wanted to honor while doing it: his late father, Bernard Dackman '50. "My father was the guy I looked up to in terms of business," says Dackman. "He created a number of banks. When he passed away 10 years ago, the banks were his legacy."

During the 2008 recession, though, the banks the elder Dackman had established ended up failing and eventually closed. Jay Dackman says that if his father had been alive to see it, he would have been devastated. He also realized that everything his father had been involved with businesswise was gone forever.

How could he pay tribute to this great man while helping others as well? Dackman kept thinking about it. Then the idea came to him: both he and his dad had graduated from the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law. Dackman decided to create a scholarship so that he could honor his dad and help students as well.

While his father did practice as a lawyer, Dackman does not. He is the President and Owner of EZ Money Lending Company in Baltimore, a developer of real estate projects throughout the nation, and the founder of The Buddy Foundation, a nonprofit organization that helps people who cannot afford to pay for veterinary care for their pets. When he contacted Maryland Carey Law, Dackman knew that he wanted to be able to be involved with the scholarship recipients. He hopes he can be a mentor to them and teach them about the various ways that they can use the law in business.

As a result, The Bernard Dackman Scholarship Fund was established, and it will benefit a student on a business track. "That's the track that both my father and I were on," says Dackman. Dackman will support one student for all three years of study and interact with the student throughout his/her law school career. When that student graduates, the fund will provide scholarship support for another student, and so on.

"I knew I wasn't going to practice law, but it's been a terrific background for everything else that I've gotten involved in," says Dackman. "This scholarship not only keeps my family's name alive at the law school, but also helps another student whom I can help get another perspective about where you can go with your career outside of being a practicing lawyer. I want this to open their minds about other ways of doing things and other ways of looking at life."

Caroline G. Harris '79 knew that she wanted to give back to Maryland Carey Law as well. As Managing Partner at Goldman Harris, LLC—a top boutique New York City law firm specializing in land use and zoning—Harris says that while she has been a donor throughout the years, she always wanted to enable another person to have the benefit of a Maryland Carey Law degree.

"I received a full scholarship from Maryland Carey Law. The University gave me the opportunity for a career that has served me for my entire life," says Harris. When she read about the law school's innovative Women, Leadership & Equality Program for second- and third-year law students to develop leadership skills, she knew she wanted to help. "Creating a scholarship for incoming students that focuses on issues related to women, gender, and race is something that I could do immediately that would have a long-lasting impact through future lawyers," says Harris.

As a result, The Caroline G. Harris Endowment for Leadership has been established at the University of Maryland Francis King Carey School of Law. The scholarship is earmarked for academically meritorious students who have demonstrated leadership with issues relating to women, gender, or race. Harris says that it is intended to encourage students to attend Maryland Carey Law, where these leadership skills will be cultivated. The scholarship will be yearly, for entering students. "It's a fulfilling way to contribute to this outstanding institution because it meshes the desire to make a donation with personal values and goals," she says.

While Harris' niche in law is real estate—specifically zoning, land use, and landmark preservation—the scholarship is not. "I hope it will develop leadership that can be manifested in any field and in whatever institutions the students eventually work," Harris explains. "I hope it helps them to know that there are alumni who support and want to encourage them to be leaders on these issues, to be outspoken, and take actions that generate respect, fairness, and equality."

"I don't have the words to express how proud and happy I am that I could make a meaningful contribution to the law school and serve these important goals."

Members of the Maryland Carey Law School Club (MCLSC) are philanthropic leaders committed to sustaining the law school's ability to educate future leaders and shape law and policy. Donors who give $1,000 or more during the fiscal year (July 1 – June 30) become members of the MCLSC.

"I SUPPORT MARYLAND CAREY LAW BECAUSE OF ITS STRONG FACULTY, STUDENT BODY, AND ALUMNI MEMBERSHIP. BUT MOST OF ALL BECAUSE OF THE LEGAL SERVICES IT PROVIDES TO THE COMMUNITY WHO WOULD NOT OTHERWISE HAVE ACCESS TO THESE SERVICES AND THE ROLE MODEL THIS SETS FOR THE STUDENTS."

- DR. MARTIN P. WASSERMAN '77

EVERY GIFT MATTERS

Although Chelsea Kadish '15, Associate at McCarthy Wilson, LLP in Rockville, Maryland, is a recent graduate from Maryland Carey Law, she thought it was important to make a gift, no matter what the size. "I have no expectation that my small contribution is going to have any great change on the school, but by the same token, a small gift did not have any serious financial impact on my ability to pay back my substantial student loans or have any real effect on the other financial stressors that come from being a recent law school grad," she says.

Kadish says that in 2012 when she moved to Maryland to start law school, she knew next to no one. Five years later, that decision has had a tremendous impact on her life. "The law school—whether the institution itself or the people that I met along the way—has been instrumental in opening doors for me. Just about every fellowship, externship, job, and opportunity that I have had over the last five years has been connected to my time at Maryland Carey Law," explains Kadish. "Whether it was professors who remembered me from class, alumni who shared an opportunity, or friends who just wanted to help."

"I am not in a position to make a major gift or get a building or program named after me, but I am able to do something, and that is what I felt was most important—that I gave something."

DIVERSITY AND SCHOLARSHIP

Maryland Carey Law prides itself on its diversity. In fact, our students are among the most diverse in the United States. This is important because we believe that the legal system can only function most completely when all people—no matter what their economic or cultural backgrounds, race, gender, disability, sexual orientation, and philosophical outlooks—are represented. Our diversity makes our school community thrive.

More than 80% of our students receive some kind of financial assistance. Unfortunately, both higher tuition as well as a higher cost of living has resulted in students having an average of $100,000 or more in debt when they graduate. That is why future lawyers and leaders often have to choose their schools based on financial limitations—which restricts their choices for what law schools they are able to attend.

To promote diversity in the school, Maryland Carey Law has started a collaborative scholarship program with four local law firms: DLA Piper; Gallagher, Evelius & Jones; Miles & Stockbridge; and Pessin Katz. These firms are working with us as part of the Diversity and Inclusion Scholars Initiative, which provides financial and professional assistance to 10 high-potential students who demonstrate a commitment to diversity.

The Diversity and Inclusion Scholars Initiative recruits as well as highlights the top talent from the state of Maryland and the local region. In addition to giving financial help, the program also provides mentorship, involvement in the Baltimore legal community, and placement of diverse students into top legal jobs after graduation.

Maryland Carey Law is enormously fortunate to be the beneficiary of donations from corporations, foundations, and organizations. We would not be able to fund the numerous programs, activities, and scholarships at the law school without their support. We thank these organizations for their generosity in furthering the law school's important mission.

IN MEMORIAM: HOWARD S. CHASANOW, '61

The Maryland Carey Law community lost a great friend in alumnus and Board of Visitors Member, The Honorable Howard S. Chasanow, who passed away on April 2, 2017.

After receiving his JD from Maryland Carey Law in 1961, Chasanow earned his LLM from Harvard in 1962. As a member of the United States Air Force, Chasanow served his country both in Korea and Japan.

In the late 1960s, Chasanow worked as an assistant and then deputy state's attorney in Prince George's County, Maryland. He then served as a judge for nearly 30 years, retiring in 1999 as a judge on the Maryland Court of Appeals. Maryland Carey Law's Maryland Law Review published a tribute to Chasanow's career after his retirement from the bench.

From 2007-2011, Chasanow served as the chair of the State Commission on Criminal Sentencing Policy. In 2011, he acted as a mediator with the Judicial Arbitration and Mediation Services.

At Maryland Carey Law, Chasanow was an adjunct faculty member who taught criminal procedure and evidence. Having always been an active alumni member, he had recently joined the school's Board of Visitors.

"Howard was an amazing contributor to the legal profession, the State, and the law school," Dean Donald B. Tobin said. "He loved Maryland, and we loved him. He will be sorely missed."

Dozens of gifts have been made in Judge Chasanow's memory. Those gifts, along with a generous gift from his family, will create an endowed fund to carry on Judge Chasanow's legacy.

The Legacy Council recognizes generous, forward-thinking donors who have made provisions through their estate plans or other planned giving vehicles to support the law school. Planned giving allows our donors the opportunity to make a personal statement to help shape the future of Maryland Carey Law and ensures that they will be remembered for their impact for many generations. We are deeply grateful for the thoughtful generosity of the donors listed here:
