WALTER L. CLARK 1878 - 1941

The REVIEW notes with sorrow the death of Walter L. Clark, which occurred on July 3, 1941, as this issue was being prepared for publication. Mr. Clark, a prominent member of the Baltimore City Bar, had taught the Evening Division course in Evidence in the Law School since 1924.

Mr. Clark was born in Bradford, Pennsylvania, but came to Baltimore at an early age, and was educated at the Baltimore City College and the University of Maryland School of Law, from which latter school he was graduated in 1902. He was at one time General Counsel for the Maryland Casualty Company, and later, until the time of his death, was engaged in general practice.

At the time of his death, Mr. Clark was Chairman of the City Service Commission of Baltimore City; one of the Maryland Commissioners on Uniform State Laws; and one of the Directors for Maryland of the American Judicature Society. He had previously served as President both of the Maryland State and the Baltimore City Bar Associations, and was an active member of those groups. He was a member of the American Bar Association and of the American Law Institute.

Mr. Clark was a loyal friend and helpful counsellor to the Law School. The loss caused to the School by his death is but a reflection of the greater loss to the professional and general community.

CONCERNING THE REVIEW

The REVIEW announces the election of Mr. Richard W. Case, of next year's Third Year Day Class, as Chairman of the Student Editorial Board for 1941-1942. New members of that Board, to succeed those who have graduated, will be chosen during the Summer and announced in the first issue next year.

NEWS OF THE LAW SCHOOL

At the Annual Commencement of the University, held at College Park on Saturday, June 7, a class of fifty-one was graduated from the Law School. Eight members of the class, all members of the Student Editorial Board of the REVIEW, were graduated with honors. These include: Charles C. Atwater, Richard B. Brenner, Robert M. Goldman, William B. Kempton, Abraham Light, Kenneth F. McClure, William J. O'Donnell, and John E. Raine, Jr.

Miss Anne C. Bagby, Law Librarian, and Professor John S. Strahorn, Jr., Chairman of the Library Committee of the faculty, represented the School at the convention of the American Association of Law Libraries, held at Old Point Comfort, Va., in late June, 1941.
