features

FROM BALTIMORE TO SOUTH AFRICA The end of apartheid brings new purpose to clinical law professors from South Africa. In fact, it brings four of them to the School of Law for an intensive program on the American way of practicing clinical law.

TWO PROFESSORS, COUNTLESS CONTRIBUTIONS John Brumbaugh, after 40 years of teaching at Maryland, and Oscar Gray, after 25 years at Maryland, retire this fall, putting aside full-time teaching loads, faculty committee meetings, and demanding schedules but continuing their passionate pursuit of learning.

NEW DEVELOPMENT DEAN TAKES THE HELM Greg Fahlund returns to the camaraderie of development and charts a course for a strong annual fund and a new building.

MARRIED TO THE LAW At first glance, Mark and Meredith Parenti look like typical law students. But this dynamic legal duo is wed not only to the law but to each other.

REUNIONS '95

ALUMNI PROFILE: CHARLES O. FISHER '47

ALUMNI PROFILE: CHIEF JUDGE ROBERT C. MURPHY '51

departments

15 NEWS
18 FACULTY FEATS
22 ALUMNI BRIEFS
32 DOCKET