features

BUILDING FOR TODAY'S LEGAL EDUCATION
Today's law school building was designed in the '60s. Aside from new space allocations, Dean Gifford has resolved to make the new building a reflection of his desire to better the legal profession.

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM
Accessibility is a key word in the School of Law—and an enviable trait. Discover how faculty are striving to reach out to students.

LEVITON—MORE THAN A GOOD NEIGHBOR
As a 25-year veteran and graduate of the law school, Susan Leviton's work with Baltimore's disadvantaged rivals Mr. Rogers reputation.

1998 AWARD RECIPIENT PROFILES

1997 HONORS BANQUET HIGHLIGHTS

LIFE AFTER LAW SCHOOL
Why go through the late nights of studying and preparing for moot court battles if you know you don't want to practice law? Ten alums will tell you how law school helped make their dreams a reality.

THE TIE THAT BONDS
The office of career development is staffed with professionals passionate about helping graduates make the student-to-professional transition.

ALUMNI PROFILE: JOSEPH HARDIMAN '62

1996-97 REPORT OF GIFTS

departments

22 FACULTY FEATS
24 ALUMNI BRIEFS
30 NEWS
31 IN MEMORIAM
32 DOCKET