A planned gift benefiting the law school can seamlessly integrate the desire to give... with the advantages of giving wisely.

A planned gift can:

- Pay you and your beneficiaries income for life
- Convert low-yielding securities and real estate into a meaningful income stream
- Shelter appreciated real estate and securities from capital gains taxes
- Generate substantial current income tax deductions
- Reduce or eliminate federal estate taxes
- Complement your financial and retirement planning
- Provide a generous gift for the law school

The director of planned giving for the University of Maryland is available to assist with designing a personalized charitable giving program that will complement your financial and tax planning needs.

For more information regarding planned giving opportunities, please call: Shelley Gitomer, assistant dean of development, 410-706-2070 or Thomas F. Hofstetter, JD, LLM, director of planned giving, 877-706-4406.
